

Food, fun ... and massage!

Spinefest raises $2,500 for the hungry

Of course it's called "Spinefest" — it's sponsored by Warren Chiropractic! The practice, based in Osceola, Indiana, has sponsored the event two years in a row, with Feed The Hungry as the charity of choice both times.

For four fabulous hours on a beautiful autumn Saturday, Hoosiers gathered to enjoy a free cookout, free kids' balloons, a moonwalk and other activities — plus firsthand encounters with an array of chiropractic delights: free chair massages, free roller table sessions, even free spinal screenings.

There was a live radio interview with Dr. Don Warren and Feed The Hungry Development Director Bonnie Ash, and everybody got free Feed The Hungry wristbands. Anyone donating $19 or more to Feed The Hungry received a free coupon for a Warren Chiropractic exam, X-rays, and other services ... valued up to $275!

This single innovative event raised $1,250, plus a matching gift totaling $2,500, for the worldwide work of Feed The Hungry.

And Dr. Warren isn't finished. As President of the Indiana Chiropractic Association, he hopes to launch "Chiropractors Feeding The Hungry" — with all the state's chiropractors featuring a Feed The Hungry logo and donation link on their websites. And after that? He's thinking about all the chiropractors in America!

Thanks to Warren Chiropractic and all who participated ... and thanks to all who are producing unusual events and activities for the benefit of the world's hungry people. God bless you! ■
